DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group II in Paper No. 7 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the subcombination does not have separate utility other than joining preexisting concrete. This is not found persuasive because claim 15 is directed to an apparatus per se not to the apparatus in combination with concrete. This is evidenced by the phrase "for joining a preexisting" In claim 15. Therefore, the claimed apparatus is not limited to use with preexisting concrete. Applicant has also elected during the telephone interview of 11/03/03 the species directed to an apparatus not having an extension. Therefore, claims 19 and 29-31 are withdrawn from further consideration as being directed to a non-elected species.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Ferm et al ('964). See Figure 3 and column 2, lines 35-37.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ferm et al ('964). The reference discloses the invention substantially as claimed; see Figure 3 and column 2, lines 35-37. However the reference does not teach providing texture to the exterior surface of the joint tie. It is a well-known scientific fact that increasing the surface area of articles to be adhesively bonded increases the overall bond strength of the subsequent joint. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to roughen the exterior surface of the joint tie in the article of the reference in view of the above noted scientific fact.
